Master of Science in Medical Sciences
Concentration in Clinical and Translational Science (MS-CTS)
Supplemental Application Materials

To apply for the MS-CTS program, please use the University of Florida’s online application system found at http://www.admissions.ufl.edu/start.html. The degree is Master of Science, Medical Sciences.*

In addition, please provide the following to our office (electronic submission is preferred):

1. Cover letter describing your career goals and why the MS-CTS will be important in achieving those goals.
2. Current CV
3. Brief description of proposed research project (3 page limit). Project should be one that you can complete within the 2-3 year timeframe of your training. Use following format:
   - Title
   - Proposed Primary Mentor and any additional mentors
   - Brief background and significance of the project (1 paragraph)
   - Hypothesis(es)
   - Prior work performed related to this project (by applicant or mentor)
   - Research Methodology (include data source[s])
   - Analysis Methods
   - Timeline for project (including IRB, subject enrollment, manuscript submissions, data analysis and grant submission)
   - Possible funding source(s) for fully developed project
4. Letter of Support from each proposed Mentor. Include description of resources, estimate of time to commit to mentoring trainee’s research through the proposed research project, estimate of trainee's potential for success as academic researcher.
5. Mentor(s)'s Biosketch and Other Support

Return supplemental materials to:
Susan Gardner
Program Coordinator
CTSI Training and Professional Development Program
sgard@ufl.edu
(electronic submission is required)

For questions and other information, e-mail, phone 352-294-8335

* Please note: Individuals accepted into the MS-CTS program are responsible for payment of all tuition and fees associated with coursework required for the degree. This includes the application fee, thesis library fee, and any late registration and/or late tuition payment fees that might be incurred.