Research Coordinator and IRB Networking Event

Research coordinators and other professionals supporting human subjects research in North Florida (Gainesville, Ocala, Jacksonville or surrounding areas) are invited to join the University of Florida Research Coordinators Consortium for an afternoon of networking and brainstorming. We will discuss ways to advance the needs of research coordinators and other professionals in the region through mentoring, continuing education and career development. There is no cost to attend, and food and drinks will be served. We hope you can join us!

September 5, 2014, 3 p.m. to 5 p.m.
Room 3161/3162, UF Clinical and Translational Research Building,
