Implementation Science Studios
FALL 2015 SCHEDULE
You’re Invited

September 30, 11:00-1:00 CTRB Rooms 3161/62
Getting to Know PCORI: From Application to Closeout
&
The Citizen Scientist Program: What it is and what it can do for you

11:00-11:30
Katie Eddleton and TaJuana Chisholm will review highlights learned at the recent PCORI workshop including:
- Not a grant, but a contract
- Milestones and Deliverables
- Meaningful patient engagement and more….

11:30-12:00
Group discussion and Q&A: Share your experiences and ask questions

12:00-12:30
Deborah Morrison will introduce you to several citizen scientists and will discuss the purpose of this program and how it has been developed to benefit UF researchers and community stakeholders

12:30-1:00
Group discussion and Q&A: How and when to engage the citizen scientist’s in your research proposal, or in program implementation

October 28th 11:00-1:00 CTRB Rooms 3161/62
This studio is currently available for you presentation

Writing a PCORI Cycle 3 LOI due November 12th?
Writing an R-Award to the NIH due November 16th?

Reserve this studio to receive actionable advice from other researchers and stakeholders regarding your specific project. Contact dgmorrison@ufl.edu or 294-5992 to reserve all or a portion of this studio.

November 18th 1:00-3:00 CTRB Rooms 2161 North & South
This studio is currently available for your presentation

Resubmission?
Provide the feedback you have received, and bring your specific questions to the studio for input and advice. Contact dgmorrison@ufl.edu or 294-5992 to reserve all or a portion of this studio.
<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>December 10\textsuperscript{th} 11:00-1:00 CTRB Rooms 3161/62</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>This studio is currently available for your presentation</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Writing a PCORI LOI due March 2\textsuperscript{nd}, 2016?</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Writing an R-Award to the NIH due in February or March, 2016?</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

Reserve this studio to receive actionable advice from other researchers and stakeholders regarding your specific project. Contact dgmorrison@ufl.edu or 294-5992 to reserve all or a portion of this studio.